

Amplifying the Voices of Transgender Kids in a Trans//Gender Justice Program: A Focused Dialogue with Educators in Golden and Invermere B.C.

This Early Childhood Pedagogist Program focused dialogue opportunity invites early childhood education professionals into an engaging conversation about responsive curriculum-making practices.

Join pedagogists Tracy Barkman and Teresa Smith for a follow-up conversation to the ECPN Presentation Series webinar, Amplifying the Voices of Transgender Kids in a Trans/Gender Justice Program. Together, we'll revisit ideas from the July 8 webinar session and consider what thinking with the concept of world-making might make possible within early childhood pedagogies committed to taking children's gender agency seriously and honouring their capacity to speak for themselves.

Participants are encouraged to view the original webinar recording at the CCRR or online at ecpn.ca/library (available after July 11) before attending the session.

This is a free event.

Light refreshments will be available, and attendees will receive professional development hours.
